

Nationwide continues to upgrade infrastructure to provide the BEST Customer Service possible!

In order to better serve our clients Nationwide has strived to continually upgrade its infrastructure which now includes a new client management software system, headsets and dual monitors for our employees so they can better serve our clients. In the coming months our clients will see our newly designed Nationwide Credentialing website and password protected web portal specifically designed for our Physicians and Facilities. The new website will still be located at www.nationwidecredentialing.com but will now come with a new modern look and a more user friendly web portal for our clients! We encourage you to use the web portal and we look forward to helping each and every one of you in your practices.

Net Worth with Terry Bradshaw Features Nationwide Credentialing LLC

August 3, 2012, Coral Springs, FL – The producers of Net Worth with Terry Bradshaw are pleased to announce that Nationwide Credentialing LLC will be featured in an upcoming segment on topics, trends and issues related to "Credentialing Management Solutions for Today's Healthcare Provider", as part of the show's Medical Minutes series.

Net Worth is a television series that takes viewers around the globe following interesting business, health and financial stories. Hosted by Terry Bradshaw, the program shares first-hand insights from business owners, entrepreneurs and experts in a variety of industries.

For patients to be able to see providers as "in-network" and minimize their out-of-pocket expenses, providers must be contracted and credentialed on the managed care plans. This is essential for all medical practices, in order to obtain a patient base and to operate successfully. Managing contracts and credentialing, however, are complex and time-consuming management functions for healthcare practices. Based in Granbury, Texas, Nationwide Credentialing, LLC is a company that provides credentialing and contract management services to physicians. The Company utilizes advanced technology to process clients' applications efficiently and cost-effectively. The five-minute Net Worth television segment aims to educate viewers on the misconception of the credentialing process, and will highlight the role that Nationwide Credentialing plays in helping practices with credentialing and contract management needs. MEET THE STAFF WHO CARE FOR YOU!

Les Douglass
Credentialing Coordinator, CPCS

Lucinda Lesslie Douglass (Les) has been in the credentialing field for twenty-five years. She became a Certified Provider Credentialing Specialist on December 2, 1997 when she worked at St. Joseph Healthcare, Albuquerque, New Mexico in hospital credentialing and later in the managed care credentialing arena for the new Medicare PPO, which was the first HCFA approved PPO in the nation. After becoming CPCS Certified, Les worked together with the hospital association and Presbyterian Hospital to form the first New Mexico medical staff services organization, NMAMSS, and was the Chapter Treasurer.

In 1997 she re-located to Granbury Texas and began working with Texas Health Harris

Methodist Fort Worth Hospital. She worked there for three years and transferred to Texas Health Harris Methodist Cleburne Hospital, which was closer to her hometown of Granbury Texas. She worked in Cleburne for 11 years before coming "full circle" in the Fall of 2011 to work at Nationwide Credentialing near her Granbury home and also returned to both managed care and hospital credentialing.

She and Kirby Douglass were married in 1974 in Albuquerque, NM and ten years later had two children Koby and Kalan Douglass. Les has many hobbies and interests including Step Aerobics, jogging, reading, music and basketball. Les says, "I LOVE working with Physicians! I've worked with them my whole career and I can identify with what they have to go through. I just enjoy helping them!"

We at Nationwide were fortunate enough to find Les at a time when being close to home was very important to her. Les has continued to maintain her CPCS Certification and shares her valuable experience and knowledge with everyone she works with! Les is approaching her 1 year anniversary with Nationwide and it's one worth celebrating! We're glad she's on our team because she truly is a valuable asset to Nationwide and its clients.

Nationwide Credentialing has been an Endorsed Service by the Texas Medical Association since 2002!
